

Interview –
with the board of management
of
The FUTURE COMPANY
Nina & Marison

- How did it all start?

Our class teacher together with our headmaster brought the idea up and wanted to give the students of Dr.-Jaufmann-Middleschool the chance to have an insight into the everyday work of companies, only the implementation was not yet clear.

- How we realized

We looked for interested students and discussed with them what a student company should look like.

- Who are the people responsible? What do they have to do?

Marison and Nina take care mainly, but with the help of the teachers Mr. Hügel and Ms. Pini-Sturm. We take care of the organization and implementation of our ideas and design everything around the student company.

- What have you liked the most so far?

Actually EVERYTHING

Laurentius Lauf (sponsoring run) which we helped to organize and support
Internships (in the industry, at the companies Trevira, Pepcon)

- What goes down best with your classmates?

1. popcorn sale
2. prices of stationery, (much cheaper than in the store).
3. sales all on the spot (no long errands)

- What should be the next step?

1. participation in fairs (cooperation with companies)
2. vocational preparation (internships, insight into everyday work life..)

- What have we learned?

Organization is the be-all and end-all
Managing any company requires a lot of time and patience
Teamwork is the key to a successful company

- Can you recommend the student company? What can you learn?

Yes, definitely, even though it's time consuming and can be annoying, it gives a lot of insight into the work.

New internships become possible, preparation for the future, learning to take responsibility, being independent and being part of a team.
